

Workshop with Jeff Rottman

GR Pottery Forms

Sunday October 7th 10am – 2pm

Clay Associates

3667 Adams Ave. San Diego, CA 92116

You are invited to a demonstration workshop with Jeff Rottman, owner of GR Pottery Forms. As a potter, Jeff came up with the idea of these forms to facilitate his own work. This idea then turned into a new business for him allowing other potters to create forms and surfaces for their own work.

We are excited that Jeff will be in Southern California for Aardvark's Open House on Oct. 6 and will make a stop in San Diego to demonstrate and talk about his forms with us. There will be a limited number of forms for sale at the workshop and options to order them. <http://grpforms.com/>

Feel free to check out GR Pottery Forms website which has video's using the forms and to see the variety of forms they offer. New this year is a wheel attachment for easily making plates from slabs. The workshop is for both handbuilders and wheel throwers.

This is a FREE WORKSHOP sponsored by CASD for our clay community. While you do not need to register for it, we would greatly appreciate it if you would RSVP if you are planning on attending so that we will know how many people to expect. Simply send an email to our CASD email.

Remember, for this FREE WORKSHOP, please register by emailing your name to:

casd.info@gmail.com

(There is no need to send an email if you can't attend.)

